POLES BEING SET HERE
FOR HIGH TENSION LINE

Telegraph and Telephone Companies May Be Required to Change Some Wires.

The poles on which the new high tension line between this city and Columbus will be suspended are being set in the alley between Cincinnati avenue and Second street. The line is being constructed by the Interstate Public Service Company and it is understood that it is to be used for supplying auxiliary service for the local plant.

The poles are fifty feet high and are being set in direct line with telegraph and telephone poles already placed in the alley. The new poles are somewhat higher than the old ones and on account of the heavy current that will be carried on the new line, the telephone company may be required to lower some of their wires to prevent "short" circuits.

ASSESSORS MUST FOLLOW NEW LAW

Philip Zoecker, State Tax Commissioner, Meets With Township Assessors at Brownstown.

EARLY REPORTS INSPECTED

Property Must be Taken at Actual Cash Value or Work Will be Re-Ordered, He Threatens.

Unless property in Jackson county is assessed at its actual cash value the state tax board will order it reappraised at the expense of the tax payers, according to Philip Zoecker, a member of the state board of tax commissioners, who conferred with the township assessors at a meeting at Brownstown Monday afternoon. Mr. Zoecker told the assessors that they had no alternative in the matter and that it was their duty to list property as provided by the law. He even made a veiled threat that if any of the assessors failed to appraise the property in their township as provided for by the new law their resignations from office would be quite acceptable to the state tax board.

Mr. Zoecker said that he could guarantee the assessors that there would be a material reduction in the tax levy next year but emphasized that it would not be possible to get the levy down to the point where it ought to be unless all property is taken at its actual cash value. He said that he was aware that attempts had been made in the past to lower the tax levy by making general increases in the appraisements of property and declared that these attempts had proved futile because there was no law by which the plan could be successfully worked out. He said that while he was a democrat and the new tax law was passed by a republican legislature he felt that it was the best enactment of its kind that had ever been passed in Indiana and had only sharp criticism for the legislators who voted against it.

The township assessors are required to file reports with the county assessor every two weeks as to the number of property owners assessed together with the total value of the various classes of property listed. In this way the county assessor is kept in touch with the progress that is being made and knows each two weeks at what rate the property is being listed. These reports were compiled and presented to Mr. Zoecker who made a careful study of the figures. He said that as a whole the

LICENSE SYSTEM HAS BEEN LIFTED

Packers Released From Food Administration Restrictions by Executive Proclamation.

PROFIT RULING REMOVED

Regulations Were Instituted During War to Prevent Excessive Huge Earnings.

Washington, April 1—All packers were released from federal control of the food administration license system by proclamation of President Wilson effective immediately. The President signed the proclamation in Paris, the food administration said today. The proclamation provides that "all persons, firms, corporations or associations engaged in importing, manufacturing, including packing storage or distributing fresh, canned or cured beef, pork mutton or lard, have been released from license" by the food administration. The President is understood to have issued the proclamation on recommendation of Herbert Hoover now in Paris directing allied food relief.

The President's proclamation has the effect of removing all restrictions on margins of profit which have been maintained during the war by the food administration. These restrictions were framed to allow only a ten percent profit to the packers on their turnover and a nine percent profit on their total business.

SAYS NEXT WAR WILL BE FOUGHT ON PACIFIC COAST

Senator James Phelan Addresses California Legislature on Japanese Question.

By United Press

Sacramento, Cal., April 1—The next war will be fought on the Pacific. The Japanese have that lust of world empire, similar to the kaiser to reach out and conquer other lands, United States Senator James Phelan declared addressing a joint session of the legislature. Phelan told of the Japanese land laws barring foreigners and excluding Chinese labor declaring "if they do that they cannot come into the court with clean hands and complain of America barring them from this country."

"They are Japanizing the Pacific coast," said Phelan. "And, wherever they feel it desirable. They are evading the land laws with corporations run by brains and Japanese capital with stupid white men as figure heads."

Stricter land laws, more vigilant immigration inspection, barring of "picture brides" from our shores and counter propaganda to combat the Japanese propaganda and "sound the alarm," were urged.

MEXICO'S ACTION
IS CONSIDERED

Officials Await Word About Reported Concessions in Lower California to Japanese.

DIVIDED OPINION AS TO AIM

Tokio Diplomats Minimize The Importance of Alleged Movement of Special Interests.

By United Press

Washington, April 1—While awaiting official word from Mexico regarding the reported land concession in lower California to Japanese interests, diplomats, officials and members of congress today discussed the situation at length.

Mexican and Japanese diplomats continued to minimize the importance of the alleged movement of Japanese interests while members of congress saw in the action serious danger.

Mexican Ambassador Bonilla in an interview with the United Press today labelled the "jingo attempts" to create ill-feeling between the United States and Mexico through the Japanese bugaboo, as groundless and malicious.

Regarding the report that Mexico land is being confiscated by the government and sold to the Japanese, Bonilla said:

"The expropriation of lands in Mexico by the government can only be effected through lengthy official procedure after its owners have refused to make a sale."

"The negotiations would go through local, state and federal channels and would become publicly known. Much American land in lower California has been untenanted by its owners in the past few years. Permission to tell all vacant lands has been given residents of the state by executive order. This order in no way affects the title or ownership to the land but some evidently believe that it means confiscation."

RESUMPTION OF TRADE WITH POLAND PROVIDED

War Board Regulation May Be Move to Check Bolshevism.

By United Press

Washington, April 1—What appears to be an important step in the effort to check the further spread of Bolshevism in Russia was seen in simultaneous announcements today by the war trade board and the federal reserve board.

Resumption of trade with Poland and Estonia is provided in new war trade board regulations, granting licenses on articles intended for internal consumption.

Restrictions on foreign exchange transactions with Estonia, Lettland, Lithuania and Poland were removed by the federal reserve board.

IMPATIENCE GROWS
OVER THE DELAYS

President Wilson Urging The Peace Conference to Speed Up Its Work.

BIG FOUR RESUMES SESSION

Reparations, French Territorial Claims and Hungarian Situation, Stumbling Blocks.

By United Press

Paris, April 1.—Despite President Wilson's impatience at recent delays there was strong evidence that the "big four" was still encountering bars to progress when it resumed its sessions today.

Reparations, French territorial claims and the Hungarian situation were understood to constitute the principal subjects for consideration.

Some of the more optimistic delegates believed the reparations question would be rapidly cleared up, barring unforeseen changes in the present demands of various interests. Others, however declared the matter of reparations was still far from settlement, although admitting there seems to be a tendency to square all demands with Germany's ability to pay.

The "big four's" problems were further tangled by injection of the Hungarian question yesterday afternoon. The "little five" or foreign ministers-council, was called in to discuss it, but decisions reached, if any, were not revealed.

The French have succeeded in bringing up the question of the left bank of the Rhine before the "big four." This matter also was considered at yesterday's session but as in the case of other matters, no statement was made regarding what happened.

President Wilson's closest friends have stated that he would publish to the world the causes and sources of delay in the peace work if speedier action were not forthcoming. He was represented as being hopeful this would not be necessary. In all quarters, it was agreed however, that he has brought strong pressure to bear on his colleagues.

Wilson's warning to his conferees regarding delays is understood to have taken the form of a speech in which he told them the world is expecting facts, action and results. He is said to have declared they would get his viewpoint and achieve results.

The president's speech followed a long address by Premier Clemenceau regarding French territorial claims. Afterwards the conferees settled down to work and are reported to have accomplished more in half an hour's session than in several days preceding.

WAR ON TRUSTS RESUMED
BY THE GOVERNMENT

Corn Product Refining Company Dissolved Upon Conviction of Law Violation.

By United Press

Washington, April 1.—The government's war truce with big business presumably is at an end. Resumption of federal action against "trusts" was indicated today, following a statement by Attorney General Palmer on the dissolution of the Corn Products Refining Company, found guilty under the anti-trust law.

Palmer said that the action of the company and a similar procedure by the Harvester Trust last November should go far toward clearing and settling the law on this important question.

The Corn Products company dropped its appeal, accepted the lower court decrees and agreed to dissolve.

MORE BURLESONISM.

Postmaster General Burleson has announced a twenty percent. increase in the telegraph rates. The announcement does not come as a surprise to the public, as practically everything that Mr. Burleson has handled has been operated at a heavy financial loss. The telegraph and telephone systems and even the great American postal system have been Burlesonized and such a change costs money.

Some time ago, Mr. Burleson announced to the public that the United States ought to own its telephone and telegraph systems. He took his pen in hand and figured out just how the lines could be bought and paid for without any increase in rates and presto change! the government would own all the lines of communication. When the Burleson idea was advanced the public smiled at the folly of the man who has made such a failure of operating the postal system which he found in excellent condition. Experience has shown that Mr. Burleson couldn't even run the postoffice business of the nation after he took it over in a sound financial condition. But he even had the temerity to propose the communication systems be placed under his department and to the surprise of the nation this very thing was done. The public became alarmed when it saw that there was actually an intention to place Burleson in charge. The smile disappeared.

Government control of public utilities, as we have frequently stated, is difficult to put in practical application. But if it is attempted a business man ought to be at the head of the business. Government owned utilities will not run themselves any more than privately own utilities can be operated with efficient management. Every utility that the government has attempted to operate has cost the public more, and the service is not kept up to the standard that was maintained under the old system. There are two reasons why the government could want to take over this kind of business. One is to give lower rates and the other to improve the service. Neither has been accomplished thus far. The reason may be that they have been Burlesonized.

BOOZE AND ARRESTS.

It has long been an established fact that there is a direct connection between the liquor traffic and the police court. For years an attempt was made to solve the problem by regulation, but twelve months ago the people of Indiana through the legislature removed the cause of many arrests. The record of Indiana as a prohibition state has been interesting. The number of arrests has been reduced approximately one-half and thousands of dollars in fines and court costs have been saved. In addition to the money saving in fines, hundreds of men who were addicted to the drink habit are now working steadily and it is almost impossible to estimate their increased economic worth to the state and nation. The value of their contentment and the happiness in their homes over the fact that they are no longer addicted to alcohol cannot be computed in the terms of cash.

The great majority of the people of this country are already convinced that prohibition pays. The cry of higher taxes with the abolishment of the liquor traffic became an air bubble when the saloons disappeared. The records show a big increase in the number of savings accounts. Much of this money was formerly spent for whiskey, but it is now being used in the investment of homes and property.

The decrease of arrests was immediately revealed by the disappearance of the saloon. That result was direct. Statistics also show that the liquor traffic also results in the crowded condition of the insane hospitals, but that is more of an indirect affect of excessive alcoholism and a longer time will be required to prove the value of prohibition in this respect. In the course of a few years the public will find that the number of insane patients is decreased.

One year of prohibition in Indiana shows results that are highly gratifying. There is, of course, the blind tiger to be contended with, but the elimination of this evil is a matter of education as well as law enforcement. In a few years the public will not permit anyone to sell liquor without being punished any more than a burglar is now permitted to operate without having the police force of the state on his trail. The benefits of prohibition will be greater during the next ten years than they were during the first year.

President Wilson threatens the use of the club of "pitiless publicity" unless the "big four" speeds up the peace work. That is just what the American people want. In fact, that was the principal objection to the government taking over the cables as it was considered practically certain at that time that the news reaching America from the peace congress would have to conform to the wishes to certain gentlemen gathered about the table. If the peace conference will just give the public the full news of the proceedings, the use of the club of "pitiless publicity" will not be needed.

Bolshevism is held out as a panacea for all economic and social ills, but from the amount of money that Premier Lenine has at his command, we judge that somebody is paying the bills. And, if the people will look far enough they will find that the money is coming from the public.

Maybe Mr. Burleson was playing an April fool joke on the public when he ordered that increase in telegraph rates.

Keep Up the Dogs.

Notice is hereby given that all dogs in the city must be kept up beginning April 1 and continuing through the months of April, May, June, July and August, in accordance with city ordinance No. 784, passed by the city council June 19, 1918. Soldiers' Letters

Mr. and Mrs. W. Klienmeyer, 415 West Fourth street, have received a letter from their nephew, E. N. Melencamp, who is with the Army of Occupation. He is a son of Henry Melencamp, of Anadarko, Okla., and has lived in Oklahoma for about nine years. Mr. and Mrs. Klienmeyer have not seen the boy since he was nine years old. The letter follows:

Dear Uncle and Aunt:

Will write you a few lines as I received a letter from Dad yesterday and he sent me your address. I was wanting to write you before but never when where to send your mail.

Well, I've been over here almost a year and a half so you see I saw a good bit of overseas service. I often thought of you folks but you know how much time a soldier has. I was kept busy trying to write to Dad. But it's all over now and I'm surely glad I saw what service I did. At Chateau Thierry my regiment lost heavily and then after we stayed there about six weeks we made a forced hike to Soissons. We put up the first American offensive. Believe me, we certainly lost heavily there. Then from there we went to Pont Mousson to be replaced and to rest up. Then the division was rushed to St. Mihiel and from there to the Muese-Argonne and Champagne. My outfit consists of the 9th and 23rd infantry, the 35th and 6th Marines, 12th, 15th and 17th artillery and the 2nd engineers. According to statistics the 2nd Division captured one-fourth of the material, prisoners of the whole A. E. F. Their losses were ten per cent. So you see that's all we get for being over here and staying. Most surely a fellow is proud of his regiment and division, especially when a fellow goes through what I was lucky enough to see. I'm in the 17th field artillery which is a unit of the 2nd division. At present my regiment is in Germany near or rather across the Rhine from Coblenz. So you see I am seeing lots of foreign countries. Well, I guess I'd better close, hoping this finds you all well I remain

Your nephew,

E. N. Melencamp,
Bat. D, 17th F. A.,

FULL SUFFRAGE IS THE AIM OF WOMEN IN INDIANA

National Leaders of The Women's Franchise Movement Confer With State Workers.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, April 1.—Campaign plans for obtaining full suffrage from the next Indiana legislature were to be taken up by the Woman's Franchise League of Indiana which met here today in the eighth annual convention.

National leaders of the women franchise movement were here to advise the state workers as to the best methods of attack on the general assembly. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the national organization will address the association tonight on the subject "Finish the Fight."

Plans are also to be made for educating the new voters to the duties of citizenship the privileges of the ballot and new responsibilities toward legislation in behalf of women and children which the right to vote entails on women.

Women from every part of the state are attending the convention which will continue until Thursday noon. The meeting opened at noon today and after the routine business had been transacted Mrs. Raymond Brown, New York, director-general of women's overseas hospitals told the women of her work in France and incidentally talked about the woman suffrage situation in that country. She was followed on the program by Mrs. Isaac Born, of Indianapolis, who discussed the Red Cross activities in this state and told of the women's organization in Indiana.

The biggest social affair of the convention was to be held between 4:30 and six o'clock this afternoon which time will be devoted to a reception given for the national officers. This feature is to be handled under direction of the committee on arrangements consisting of Mrs. Grace Julian Clarke, Indianapolis; Mrs. Ovid Butler Jameson, Indianapolis; Mrs. S. C. Rowland, Crawfordsville; Mrs. E. F. Erlbacher, Evansville; Mrs. T. Benton Henley, Carthage; Mrs. M. F. Johnston, Richmond; and Mrs. Elizabeth Claypool Earl of Connersville.

Much interest centered today in the nomination of officers which probably will take place tonight at the meeting of the nominating committee. The national leaders have advised

There are garden bugs and “garden bugs.” They are always fighting each other. The garden bugs are known by such imposing names as Phthorimaea operculella, Phlegothontius sexta, or Murgantia histrionica. The “garden bugs”, however, bear the more familiar monickers of Jones, Brown, Smith, and the like.

Jones, Brown, Smith, etc., sometimes are affrighted by the imposing names lugged around by Phthorimaea operculella, etc., but when they become more familiar and begin to call them potato bugs, tomato worms, and “BUGS” lose much of their power to alarm. Familiarity breeds confidence as well as contempt, and that is all that Jones, Brown, and Smith need to make 1919 another year of victory for the “garden bugs” over the garden bugs.

IN THE SPRING

When Energy and Vitality are Lowest, then—Influenza!

(By S. C. BOWER, M. D.)

At this time of the year people feel weak; tired, listless, their blood is thin, they have lived indoors and perhaps expended all their mental and bodily energy and they want to know how to renew their energy and stamina, overcome headaches and backaches, have clear eyes, a smooth, ruddy skin and feel the exhilaration of real good health tingling thru their bodies. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against ills of all kinds. You are apt to suffer from an attack of Influenza if your health is run down.

Purify the blood and you can defy influenza. This is the time to clean house and freshen up a bit.

Drink hot water a half hour before meals, and for a vegetable tonic there's nothing better than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the old-fashioned herbal remedy, which has had such a fine reputation for fifty years. It contains no alcohol or narcotics and is made into tablets and liquid. Send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. for trial package.

Milwaukee, Wis.—“For the last twenty years I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, at times, as a general tonic, with excellent results. One bottle in the spring and one in the fall is usually all-sufficient. It has given me added strength and endurance and has greatly aided me in following the strenuous life of a freight handler. I have also found the ‘Pleasant Pellets’ very beneficial and mild in action.”

“I have been through Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y., and have found everything as represented. The pictures given of their buildings are genuine.”—John W. McCain, 188 N. Jackson St.

the state organization that the success of full suffrage in Indiana will depend largely upon the leadership. The nominating committee is composed of the thirteen district chairmen, who will choose one or more nominees for the elective officers and eight nominees for the five directors to be elected by popular vote of the convention.

With the refusal of Mrs. Richard Edwards of Peru to be candidate for re-election to the presidency there has been much speculation as to who will be chosen.

SEVEN BODIES RECOVERED FROM THE DELAWARE RIVER

Platform on Which Spectators of Boat Launching Were Standing Gives Away.

By United Press.

Bristol, Pa., April 1.—Seven bodies have been recovered from the waters of the Delaware and many searchers are hunting for others hurled into the river yesterday when a platform on which they were viewing the launching of the cargo carrier Waukau collapsed.

The number of missing is variously estimated at from 12 to 18. Police are experiencing difficulty in checking up the list of missing as some of those on the platform were spectators and others workmen of the Merchant Ship Building yards where the accident occurred.

The structure known as the patrol bridge gave way under the weight of more than two score men. Twenty-eight living persons were taken from the river soon after.

The Waukau hid the patrol bridge from view of many spectators gathered to witness the launching and several minutes elapsed before they learned of the disaster. Meanwhile the vessel was launched on time.

Police believe the suction of the 8800 ton ship as it struck the water may have drawn some of the bodies far into the channel. Police launches are dragging the river between Philadelphia and Trenton.

WE wish to express our sincere appreciation to all our regular patrons and the public in general for their very prompt response to the announcement of our big stock reducing sale held for the past ten days, and just concluded. The liberal buying of the enormous crowds that came from all parts of Seymour and surrounding country far exceeded our widest expectations and our purpose of having the sale has more than been accomplished, and in order that all who attended the sale may be as well pleased with their bargains, we will continue to exchange any unsatisfactory purchases, during the remainder of this week.

Our reason for placing our stock of Summer and Winter footwear on sale without reserve at this time was to reduce it to one-half of the size to which it had grown during the period of the war through our efforts to protect ourselves and our patrons as much as possible, against the continued raising of prices on the shoe market, by placing exceptionally large future orders, before the later advances, with many of the manufacturers of the regular lines of reliable footwear we have been handling in each department for years, and which, considering the present doubtful situation that exists on all markets, caused us to feel that we were heavily overstocked, and we decided it would be well for us to unload one-half of these goods at a sacrifice of all profits and even at a decided loss in many instances, in order to protect ourselves against any disadvantages that might come to us through a possible immediate or future substantial decline in prices on the shoe market, which will inevitably come sooner or later.

We might say however, that at the present time we know of no positive indication of lower shoe prices; in fact, there has been a substantial increase, within the last two months, in the prices of certain kinds of shoes, and in all of the authentic information that it is possible for a shoe dealer to obtain, there is no promise of relief at any particular time, but we will admit, we feel more at ease under present conditions since the size of our stock has been reduced.

Owing to the great rush and congestion of the big crowds at times during the sale, we regret that it was utterly impossible on some occasions to render our usual standard of service and for this reason many of our regular patrons and others were unable to make their selections and take advantage of the greatly reduced prices, and therefore, in order to satisfy the desires of all during the remainder of this week while we are rearranging the store, we will continue to sell in every department at the same low prices that have obtained throughout the sale.

no confirmation of the Mexico City announcement of negotiations of Japanese corn corporations for agricultural concessions in lower California, Ambassador Bonifaz however, sees no menace to the Monroe doctrine or defiance to the U. S. in such proposals. He pointed out that the Mexican constitution permits Japanese immigrants to become citizens and own property as do all the other latin-American republics.

In showing how groundless fears of a Japanese foothold in Lower California may be, he recalled the Magdalena bay incident in which Japan was reported to have attempted to obtain a coaling station in Mexican Pacific waters. This report he declared had no other basis in fact than the employment of Japanese fishermen by a Mexican fishing corporation.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. YANK'S NOVEL GIFT TO HIS BEST GIRL

Not many young women who have had a some one dear to them "over there" can boast of a gift as unusual as this girl is about to receive from her admiring Yank sweetheart. The present in question is a belt containing 20 insignias of war, including those of rank, branch of service, and even a general's star. The collection was made by Private Louis C. Haber of the Ninety-first division, who participated in the struggles of St. Mihiel and the Argonne. The lucky recipient of this odd gift is Miss Helen Kosby.

EXPECTS TO START ON LONG AIR JOURNEY ABOUT APRIL 10

Pilot Hawker Reluctant About Taking of Contemplated Trans-Atlantic Trip.

By United Press.

St. Johns, N. J., April 1.—Pilot Hawker, of the Sopwith airplane, with which an attempt will be made to fly from Newfoundland to Ireland, declared today he expects to start not later than April 10.

Both Hawker and his navigator are very reticent, but they express absolute confidence in the success of the venture. They feel sure the Sopwith plane will be the first to fly across the Atlantic.

The machine was taken to the flying field in sections and now awaits arrival of mechanics who are en route here and who are expected to be on the ground some time before the pilot arrives. They are aboard the steamship Kyle which has been jammed in the ice two miles off Low Point ever since March 24. There is no immediate indication of the vessel being reached unless the wind changes and this will delay erection of the airplane considerably but will not cause the start of the flight to be postponed to later than April 10. Hawker insists.

POLICE DETAILED AT THE CHICAGO VOTING PLACES

Business District of Windy City Turned Into Bedlam on Eve of Election.

By United Press.

Chicago, April 1—Appealing to every passion and prejudice imaginable, workers for the five mayoralty candidates today put the decision up to the people. The exciting campaign ended last night in wild scenes in various parts of the city, but magnified many times in the downtown district where poured thousands from outlying precincts to turn the tumultuous business district into a bedlam.

Clashes were numerous and hostilities finally became so bitter that stink bombs were resorted to. Banners were torn down resulting in numerous fights between rival supporters and men and women shouted themselves hoarse from scores of hand wagons that paraded the loop district until far into the night.

To prevent recurrences today, Chief of Police Garrity detailed reserves to patrol the 2,215 voting precincts and guard crowded sections of the city.

Candidates managers freely predicted that no less than 700,000 of the registered vote of 792,000 will be cast. It was pointed out that no previous city campaign had been so bitter.

Last hour predictions of pluralities from each camp ran from 75,000 to 175,000.

"Tuning Up" The Motor

YOU have noticed, of course, that there is a big difference in the way that automobiles run. Some of them get over the ground, but the motor "misses" and the power is unsteady and jerky. The driver never knows just how his car is going to behave.

Then there are other cars that fairly "skim" over the roads with the soft, purring of the motor. You have noticed that such cars respond promptly and easily to the touch of the driver. There is always plenty of power for speed and hills.

The difference in the machines is the way they are adjusted.

Our mechanical experts know just what your car needs so that it will run with the responsive, purring sound.

Mr. A. H. Wagner, who served the government as a motor expert during the war, is at the head of our mechanical department. He has a personal knowledge of all makes of cars and can tell you just what is wrong with your machine.

On March 24 we will have two new mechanics so that your work can be done promptly. Bring your cars around and let us inspect them for you.

Dignity of the Law.

A law student in the S. A. T. C. was stopped by a sentry (who was almost as green in military matters as the would-be lawyer), says Gargoyles. The w. b. l. refused to heed the challenge. "Stop!" shouted the sentry. "If you move you are a dead man."

"Sir," replied the legal light, "your statement is ridiculous. Allow me to call your attention that in accordance with recognized authorities on the subject dead men are incapable of motion. If by reason of my so exerting my powers as to cause my body to move from point A to point B it is incomprehensible."

"Pass, Mr. Blackstone," said the sentry, in a dazed manner.

NEW GENERAL STRIKE IS DECLARED IN RHINELAND

Workmen in Berlin Irate Over Government's Arrest of Ernest Daumig, Soviet Leader.

By United Press.

Berlin, April 1.—The general strike declared in the Rhineland by the soviets for tomorrow is regarded as the possible beginning of a new campaign to overthrow the present government. Its full extent will not be certain before it actually gets under way.

Among the demands being made by the soviets are:

Disarmament of all troops.

Arming of the proletariat.

Freedom for all political prisoners.

Immediate and close relations with the Bolsheviks in Hungary and Russia.

Workmen in Berlin were irate today over the government's arrest of Ernest Daumig, leader of the city's soviets. He is the most radical leader, next to George Ledebour, and was largely responsible for the organization which overthrew the kaiser. He is charged with instigating the Spartacan uprisings in January. The soviets claim his arrest was the result of the government's fear of further opposition.

PRINCESS EITEL

The determination of Prince Eitel to obtain a divorce from his wife does not mitigate the contempt in which that corpulent son of William Hohenzollern has been held in this country ever since his activities in France and Belgium were bared to the world. Princess Eitel has been known as a devoted wife.

Baby European Monarchy.

Lichtenstein once bought a cannon for saluting purposes. It is said, and couldn't use it because even when backed up to the Austrian frontier the shot fell into Switzerland and the gun kicked over into Austria. This principality comprises 60 square miles of Alpine scenery, and after immemorial contentment under a succession of rulers, the population of 10,000 now demands a republic. Lichtenstein remained neutral throughout the war. The revolt is interesting because at present the ruling prince collects nothing from his subjects, and practically pays all the expenses of government and the maintenance of public utilities, including the churches.

PENAL FARM.—Hereafter persons who violate any of the criminal laws of the state or any city ordinance now in force or hereafter enacted and who are committed for a period of 30 days or more may be sent to the state penal farm. The act became effective on March 1.

LEGALIZING WAR EXPENDITURES.—Owing to the advance in the price of commodities and the necessities of life and the abnormally high prevailing rate of wages during the war county sheriffs in many instances were unable to feed prisoners entrusted to their charge and confined in county jails at the fixed legal rate of forty cents per day; similarly, it was impossible to maintain children in orphan asylums or to procure labor on the public roads at the legal rates. In many counties the rates actually paid during the war were in excess of the legal rates and an act which became effective March 10 legalizes all such excess payments when made in good faith as a result of the prevailing economic conditions.

Franklin Summer School.

Franklin, Ind., April 1—Plans for the most extensive courses ever offered in the Franklin College Summer School have just been completed for the coming session and announced by Dr. H. N. Sherwood, director. The summer session proper will open April 21, at which time graduates of high schools and teachers of schools which have closed will enter. Students may enter the summer session again May 26. Those who enter April 21 for the twelve-weeks' teachers' training course will complete their work July 4. Those who enter on the second date will finish August 8. Regular college work and college credit will be given in all courses. A large number of men who have been forced to drop their work in college to enter the service in the past two years, have signified their intention of entering the summer session, and the faculty has arranged the program so that they will be able to make up a considerable part of the course they missed.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

A Discovery.

The murder of Maldonado shook the camp next morning. Three rurales, in brilliant trappings, rode up to Rickard's ramada. The leader, entering the office, announced that they were on the track of a criminal, the murderer of a rural, Maldonado. He was an Indian named Felipe. He repeated the story Rickard had heard before. Would the señor give his respected permission for notices to be posted about the camp? A description of the Indian, a reward for his capture; the favor would be inestimable.

Rickard saw the notice later that day. It was nailed to the back platform of the Palmyra. He was on Marshall's trail, his chief having failed to keep an appointment with him. They were to test the gate that afternoon; Marshall was returning soon to Tucson.

Rickard turned back toward camp, deep in thought; so intent that a sharp cry had lost its echo before the import came to him. He stopped, hearing running steps behind him. Innes Hardin was loping up the bank like a young deer, with terror in her eyes.

"Mr. Rickard!" she cried. "Mr. Rickard!"

She was trembling. Her fright had flushed her; cheek to brow was glowing with startled blood. He saw an odd flash of startling beauty, the veil of tan torn off by her emotion. The wave of her terror caught him. He put out his hand to steady her. She stood recovering herself, regaining her spent breath. Rickard remembered that this was the first time he had seen her since the murder of Maldonado, since the meeting with the Mexican woman at his tent. "What was it frightened you?"

"The Indian, the murderer. Just as they describe him on those notices. I must have fallen asleep. I'd been reading. I heard a noise in the brush and there was his face staring at me." Her breath was still uneven. "I screamed and ran. Silly to be so scared."

He started toward the willows, but she grabbed his sleeve. "Oh, don't." She flushed, thinking to meet the quizzical smile, but his eyes were grave. He, too, had had his fright. They stood staring at each other. "I'm afraid—" she completed. How he would despise her cowardice! But she could not let him know that her fear had been for him!

He was looking at her. Suppose anything had happened to her! He had a minute of nausea. If that brute had hurt her—and then he knew how it was with him!

He looked at her gravely. Of course. He had known it a long time. It was true. She was going to belong to him. If that brute had hurt her!

She shrank under his gravity; this was something she did not understand. They were silent, walking toward the encampment. Rickard did not care to talk. It was not the time; and he had been badly shaken. Innes was tremulously conscious of the palpitating silence. She fluttered toward giddy speech. Her walk that day, Mr. Rickard! She had heard that water had started to flow down the old river bed; she had wanted to see it, and there was no one to go with her. Her sentence broke off. The look he had turned on her was so dominant, so tender. Amused at her giddiness, and yet loving her! Loving her! They were silent again.

"You won't go off alone, again." He had not asked it, at parting. His inflection demanding it of her, was of ownership. She did not meet his eyes.

Later, when she was lying on her bed, face downward, routed, she tried to analyze that possessive challenge of his gaze, but it eluded words. She summoned her pride, but the meaning called her, sense and mind and soul of her. It cried to her: "I, Casey Rickard, whom your brother hates, once the lover of Gerty Holmes, I am the mate for you. And I'm going to come and take you some day. Some day, when I have time!"

Oh, yes, she was angry with him; she had some pride. "Why didn't he tell me then?" she cried in a warm tumult to her pillow. "For I would have given him his answer. I had time, ample time, to tell him that it was not true." For she wanted a different sort of lover, not a second-hand discard; but one who belonged all to herself; one who would woo, not take her with that strange sure look of his. "You'll be waiting when I come." Ah, she would not, indeed! She would show him!

Before he had left her, Rickard had followed a swift impulse. Those bronze lamps averted still? Was she remembering—last night? No mistake like that should rest between them. He must set that straight. That much he allowed himself. Until his work was done. But she knew—she had seen—how it was with him!

"I wonder if you would help me, Miss Hardin? Would you do something for that poor crazed woman? I wanted to ask Mrs. Hardin, but for some reason I've got into her black books. Just the little kindness one woman can give another. A man finds it difficult. And these Mexican women don't understand a man's friendship."

Her eyes met his squarely. His tantalizing smile had gone. He was making a demand of her—to believe him. His request his defense. The glances of "yellow eyes and gray, met with a shock, and the world was changed for both. Life, with its many glad voices, was calling to senses and spirit, the girl's still rebellious, the man's sure.

Rickard put out his hand. "Good-night!" To both, it carried the sound of "I love you!" She put her hand in his, then tore her fingers away, furious with them for clinging. Where was her pride? When he had time! She fled into her tent.

Neither of them had seen Gerty Hardin watching them from her tent door.

North East West South

Supposing that, beginning to-morrow, all the newspapers are discontinued. What a furore the public would make. "News! News! We must have news or we will be no better off than the ancients." "All right, suppose we give them news but cut out the advertisements."

Then we would discover that politics, the doings of society, notices of fires, accidents, deaths, scandals, sports, the activities of the police and criminals add little or nothing to the real comfort and happiness of this age in the world's history.

What geni are they that have crowded the last fifty years with so much of advantage to humans? They are legion in number, but not least among them is Advertising.

Our day is the greatest time the world has seen because we have more to be happy with, better things, greater variety, greater comforts gathered together from the North, East, West and South for our choosing and selection. Look about you. This is the day of better food, better homes, better clothing, better babies, better health, better business. And advertising is the instrument that makes these better things possible.

Advertising is the News of all the looms, of all the furnaces, of all the laboratories, of all the shops, of all the stores, of all the world and all working for you.

Because of advertising, luxuries and necessities that once cost a king's ransom are yours at little prices. Advertising pits merchant against merchant, artisan against artisan, producer against producer, for your benefit, forcing out the best there is in everything and telling the world about it.

Read advertising. Keep abreast of to-day. Advertising furnishes you with facts and opportunities that you would otherwise never know.

A daughter was born Saturday, March 29, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jeffries, 316 East Third street.

Charles Emily, who has been sick for the past seven months, was taken today to the home of his father-in-law, W. M. Burton, West Laurel street.

Mrs. Frank Layman, of Paris Crossing, was brought to this city yesterday and taken to the home of Charles Kysar on North Walnut street.

East Bound B. & O. passenger train, No. 66, was held here for about an hour this morning. The delay was caused by a hot box on the engine.

Relatives here have received word that Mrs. Charles Emly, who has been an inmate at the asylum at Madison for several months, is very much improved and will probably return to this city on Thursday of this week.

Rev. F. A. Hayward left for Chicago and Milwaukee Monday on a business trip. Returning he will stop over at Indianapolis, and spend several days at Fort Benjamin Harrison where he is a delegate at the Special Training Conference of the War Work Council of the Indiana Young Men's Christian Association.

assessors were showing a desire to follow the provisions of the new law and the orders of the state tax board and insisted that the others revise assessments which were taken too low.

The question came up as to what constituted the value of farm land and Mr. Zoecker said that in most instances that could be determined by the selling price. One assessor told him that he knew of a farm that was worth probably from $30 to $40 an acre which had sold under unusual circumstances at $59 an acre. The speaker was asked on what basis that farm should be listed for taxation. Without hesitation he said that the farm should be taken on the basis of $59 an acre as the purchase.

er had paid that amount for it and it was evidently worth that price or the buyer would not have paid that sum for it.

An assessor in another township said that he had listed land across the road from the above mentioned farm at considerably less than $59 an acre and he was told that he should revise his appraisements according to the higher scale. He then asked Zoecker that if another farm in that section should sell for $15 an acre if he would be required to again revise his schedule. Zoecker replied that that would be a downward revision and said it was the desire of the state tax commissioners to make all revisions upward.

Complaint was made to Ed Himebaugh, assessor for Jackson township, in regard to the appraisement of household furniture in this city. The reports filed showed that the appraisement of the furniture in the average home according to the reports on file was only about $50 each and Zoecker thought this was too low. Mr. Himebaugh explained that he was taking furniture at what he considered a fair cash value and it is not believed that the state board will attempt to have a revision of personal property assessments in this township.

Practically all the assessors in the county attended the conference at Brownstown and question after question was hurled at the state tax commission member. He insisted in answer to nearly every question that
